Let's talk Tuesday with [REDACTED] but I'm impressed that we should make this a two-way arrangement. I'm intrigued that 15 students of ICAF have spent six weeks looking into how the community resource management works. I think we need their perceptions and research findings and should volunteer to critique them. Further, our pitch should point them in the right direction in understanding the variables and equities -- thus, why not a panel to address them and possibly a hand shake with the DCI himself.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Secretary
CIA Management Committee

SUBJECT : Visit to the Agency by Study Group from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces

1. Attached is a request from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces (ICAF) for a half-day's briefing at the Agency for a Special Student Study Group on Friday, 27 April 1973.

2. This briefing is requested for 15 students who for six weeks will have been engaged in a Special Study Project on the Management of Intelligence Resources. The briefing at the Agency is planned as the concluding session of the study project.

3. I propose that we approve the request in line with our established policy of conducting special briefings for senior service schools. Since the focus of this briefing will be on the Management of Intelligence Resources and quite different from the general orientations conducted for such recent visiting groups as the Senior Seminar in Foreign Policy and the Army War College, we will of course coordinate the program for the visit closely with appropriate members of the Intelligence Community Staff. [redacted] will coordinate the visit for the Office of Training.
